

Candidates Hunting For Votes Among New York Millions

Dewey To End Campaign Saturday Night

By the Associated Press
President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Henry Wallace cross campaign trails in New York City today as they hunt votes among its millions for next Tuesday's presidential election.

Mr. Truman scheduled another busy day talking his way through the metropolitan area, with a major address tonight in Brooklyn. The President climaxed his first day's visit with a Madison Square Garden speech last night forecasting victory for "Liberal government" on November 2.

Truman Races Shadow
Dewey will wind up his campaign in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. He was due to arrive from Boston this afternoon after electioneering his way through Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Republican presidential contender urged his New England audiences yesterday not to "fall for the argument of candidates holding high office that there is only one party." And he promised to expand social legislation as "part of the defense of our American way of life in a troubled and dangerous world."

Wallace planned another go-round of New York talks with a major speech tonight in Harlem.

Mr. Truman, noting that Dewey's travel schedule has followed close on his heels, referred to his GOP rival as his "shadow." But he said the New York governor was afraid to follow him in discussing such campaign issues as social security, housing, minimum wages, the Taft-Hartley law.

He's A Mud-Slinger
The President also retorted to Dewey's "mud-slinging" charge Tuesday night in Chicago.

"If it's mud-slinging to go out and tell the people in every state and every corner of the country about the facts of life, then I'm a mudslinger," Mr. Truman said. Dewey meanwhile promised that if he is elected president he will increase social security benefits

Frenchmen Jailed To End Coal Strike

Coal Field Occupation Ahead Of Schedule

Paris, Oct. 29 (AP)—Police said today they have jailed 700 Frenchmen and foreigners in an attempt to end the 25-day-old coal strike.

The interior ministry said police and army occupation of the big northern coal fields was moving 12 to 24 hours ahead of schedule.

"There was no noticeable resistance and no incidents," the commune said.

The pro-Communist newspaper Ce Soir said strikers were counter-attacking at the Bonnell mine, one of the 12 occupied today.

The ministry estimated there had been 626 arrests up to Wednesday night, including 180 North Africans and 85 other foreigners.

While the coal stoppage seemed ebbing, Communists pushed a dockers' strike to keep out coal imports.

Troops at two French ports, La Rochelle and La Pallice, were unloading American coal shipments, Communist-led Stevedores, sympathizing with the coal strike have refused to work at eight ports.

Balmy Week End Promised Nation

Chicago, Oct. 29 (AP)—No cold weather is in sight over the weekend to spoil the fair, pleasant weather over the eastern half of the country.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will be above normal again today from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast. Not much change is expected tomorrow and Sunday.

Fear Prompts Stalin Blast

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

Paris, Oct. 29 (AP)—United Nations sources said today Prime Minister Stalin's attack on the western powers may have been prompted by a fear that world opinion is turning against the Berlin Blockade.

The three western powers denied Stalin's charge yesterday that an agreement on the Berlin case had been violated by American and British representatives. The charge was seen here as an attempt to shift the blame for east-west disagreements on to the west.

The United States and France officially denied any agreement on Berlin ever had been reached. A British spokesman in London also entered a denial.

Stalin charged there had been two distinct violations of agreements for settlement of the Berlin issue. Then he launched a lengthy attack on the policy of present leaders in the U. S. and Britain. His remarks were made in answer to questions by a reporter from Pravda, official Russian Communist party newspaper.

A French spokesman said he did not know why France was not a target of Stalin's attack. Western power delegates made it clear all three powers had worked in complete accord on the Berlin case.

End Of Bus Strike Sighted In Lansing

Union Employees Agree To Arbitration

(By The Associated Press)
Officials of the Inter-City Coach Line company here today turned down a company offer to arbitrate a bus strike that has tied up public transportation in Lansing for the past three days.

The Lansing strike is the latest of three walkouts in the state. Flint and Muskegon also are hit by similar disputes.

In the Lansing dispute, a statement by bus company president James A. Gibbs declared that the negotiation process had not yet been exhausted, therefore the dispute is not ready for arbitration.

The statement by Gibbs pointed out that the company is still faced with the prospect of a five cent fare if Lansing voters do not approve a jump to 10 cents at the Nov. 2 election. The company has held that no decision can be made on union wage demands until the fare issue is resolved.

Money From Japan Awaited By Russia

Moscow, Oct. 29 (AP)—Tass charged today Gen. MacArthur has not answered a two-week-old Soviet query whether the Japanese government should pay Russia for costs of repatriating Japanese prisoners of war.

The Soviet News Agency said in a dispatch from Tokyo that Maj. Gen. A. P. Kislenko, deputy member of the Allied Control Commission, had written MacArthur's office.

Tass said the note asked that representatives of MacArthur and the Japanese government be named for talks on repayment of money to the U. S. S. R. for the repatriations.

"Notwithstanding the fact that two weeks already have passed, MacArthur's staff has not answered this letter of the Soviet representative," Tass declared. The News Agency said an agreement of Dec. 19, 1946, calls for the Japanese government's footing all repatriation bills for war prisoners and civilians.

German Thug Kills American Soldier

Kassel, Germany, Oct. 29 (AP)—German police are holding a German who they said admitted killing and robbing a soldier from Michigan.

The victim, Sergeant Raymond P. Switzer, 35, of Lake Orion, was beaten to death in the washroom of the Kassel railway station last May 8. He was traveling with his wife and child from his base at Leitz, Austria, to Kassel, to visit relatives.

The man held was identified as August Klammke of Kassel. Police said he admitted robbing Switzer of his watch and billfold after hitting him with a piece of iron.

Grouse Introduced On Beaver Island

Lansing, Oct. 29 (AP)—The conservation department will make the first attempt shortly to establish ruffed grouse on the Beaver Islands in northern Lake Michigan, officials reported today.

The department today accepted delivery of 50 live-trapped wild grouse from a private operator in Wisconsin. Nearly equally divided between males and females, the birds are scheduled to be released on Big Beaver Island in a few days. The island has never had a grouse population.

and other issues now before the U. N. general assembly.

Some U. N. delegates commented that the statements were the most defensive ever to come from Stalin. They said the Soviet leader usually adopts the role of a calm, wise father lecturing the western world, but this time he lashed out harshly at American and British policies.

The delegates added that western power policies in U. N. debates apparently were having some effect in the Kremlin.

The U. S., Britain and France have charged Russia with blame for the failure to achieve international control over atomic energy and to reduce armaments. Russian spokesmen at the U. N. in turn blamed the western powers, but this was the first time the Russian case had been taken up so vigorously by Stalin.

The Soviet leader has in the past attacked individuals in western countries as warmongers. His statement yesterday struck at American and British policy leaders.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, U. S. deputy in the U. N. Security Council, called a special news conference to answer Stalin's charges that agreements on Berlin made this month in Paris had been discarded by the U. S. and Britain.

Jessup declared flatly "no such agreement existed."

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia, who led the efforts of the six neutral nations of the security council to effect a compromise among the big four powers on Berlin, also denied Stalin's statement that an agreement had been reached in Paris.

"At no time was there a draft of a resolution agreed upon by all four big powers," Bramuglia said.

Sigler And Williams Go After Labor Vote

(By The Associated Press)

Labor's vital role in Michigan's election was further emphasized today in campaign tactics of Governor Sigler and G. Mennen Williams.

The Republican incumbent, except for a quick noontime flight to a party workers meeting in Grand Rapids, devoted another day to his job of trying to land Detroit's industrial vote.

Williams and his Democratic co-workers were doing the same. Both Sigler and Williams concentrated on the labor ballot Wednesday.

The governor, following an apparently established practice of his campaign, met with another labor group.

He came away with an endorsement from a representative of five railroad brotherhoods.

It was from Charles M. Woodbury of Bay City, legal representative for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Asserting the brotherhoods were "well satisfied" with Sigler's board, Woodbury said he spoke also for the Conductors, Maintenance of Way Workers, Trainmen, and Railway Clerks.

Woodbury said the groups felt

Words Hide Action In Peruvian Revolt

Lima, Peru, Oct. 29 (AP)—Military action against an army revolt in southern Peru was cloaked today in a war of words between the government and rebelized radios.

While there was no official announcement of government troops being sent to the south, the government ordered the air force into action against the rebellious army garrison at Arequipa, the main city of southern Peru.

First word of the revolt, blamed by the government on a "small Rightist group," came with a government announcement Tuesday night.

The rebels, through Radio Continental at Arequipa, said several other army units in Southern Peru had joined the revolt.

British Housewife Lands In Japan On Her World Flight

Chitose Airbase, Hokkaido, Oct. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait, British housewife, landed her single engine plane here today and expects to take off tomorrow for Shemya Island in the Aleutians on her projected around-the-world flight. American Air Forces officials in Tokyo said she would be given an escort of a B-17 air-sea rescue plane on the 1,778 mile flight.

POLIO ATTACK FATAL

Oscoda, (AP)—Ten year old Carol Robinson died of infantile paralysis Thursday. Her six-year-old brother, Franklin, was reported ill of the disease. The two Robinson children were the first polio cases of the year reported in Isosco county.

Truman Holds Aloft New Deal Banner In New York Talk

President Makes Plea For Jewish Vote

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—The cheers of his nation's greatest city stirred Harry S. Truman to exclamations of triumph today in the "zero hour" of his battle to stay in the White House.

He wrapped the mantle of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt around his shoulders and held aloft the banner of the "New Deal" in the home state of the man who gave it birth.

And he girded himself to ride forth a second day to champion it among the millions whose votes could decide his political fate.

"I'm proud to be an exponent of the New Deal," he told a demonstrative throng at a CIO dinner held last night in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel to honor Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-N. Y.), who sponsored much of the New Deal's legislation.

Then, to nearly 20,000 applauding spectators at a liberal party rally in Madison Square Garden, Mr. Truman declared:

"I am happy to say to you tonight that the spirit of liberalism is going to triumph at the polls on November 2, just as sure as you're sitting in this hall."

Whistle-Stops Covered

Appealing for New York City's large Jewish vote, Mr. Truman restated his stand for "a strong, prosperous, free and independent Israel."

He said the people of Israel already have demonstrated "that Israel deserves to take its place in the family of nations."

"That is our objective, and we shall work toward it in a sound way, not in a partisan political way," he declared. "I am confident that that objective will be reached."

In the Roosevelt tradition, Mr.

Canada Tightens Up On Border Defenses

Draft Law Regarded As Political Bugaboo

Ottawa, Oct. 29 (AP)—Canada, with a meager population and a vast land mass geographically exposed to military attack, gradually is tightening her defenses.

There is no immediate possibility that she will enact a draft law to build up her regular military services which now have a total manpower of less than 40,000. The draft is a political bugaboo here.

The government, however, fearful of the current international situation, is working on this three-point program:

1. To provide a standing force to defend the nation against any diversionary attack as the only immediate threat to the country's security. The proposed defense force would include an airborne brigade of 7,000 men and an aircraft interceptor wing. Canada also possesses a small two-ocean navy, with the emphasis on anti-submarine operations.

2. To form the nucleus of a military force that easily could be expanded into an expeditionary force like the ones Canada sent overseas in both world wars.

3. To combine with other nations to preserve peace and resist aggression. The Brussels alliance, composed of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—is asking the United States and Canada to join in a north Atlantic defense pact.

Yesterday External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson announced that Canada has notified the other nations involved that she is ready to enter negotiations for a north Atlantic pact.

Tom Dewey Loses Freshman Election At Michigan State

East Lansing, Oct. 29 (AP)—Dewey ran a poor third today in the presidential election of the freshman class at Michigan State College.

Named to head the class was Ward Ouradnik of Ann Arbor with 297 votes. Dave Ruhnkorff of East Lansing was runner up with 225 votes and Thomas R. Dewey (no relation to the presidential candidate) of Grosse Pointe ran third with 189 votes.

The union used the money to hire unemployed musicians at free public concerts.

The new agreement, the announcement said, "provides in substance that the record companies will make payments into a public music fund to be administered by a trustee."

Engineer At GM Tells Of Beating By Detroit Police

Detroit, Oct. 29 (AP)—A General Motors engineer charged today that he was beaten, abused and held a prisoner for three days in a Detroit police station.

Police superintendent Edwin Morgan said that as a result of the accusations five Davison precinct officers face suspension and trial before a police board.

Morgan said the handling of the case was "regrettable."

The prisoner was Richard P. James, 29, who was taken into custody Oct. 19 during a police hunt for a windowpeeper. He has no criminal record.

James said he was beaten, his hair pulled and vulgar language hurled at him in an effort to make him admit the charges. He refused to do so.

Russia's Demand For Tokyo Report Rejected By U. S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—The United States will reject Russia's demand for an official report on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's military conferences at Tokyo with other American commanders.

The state department made this clear in a statement declaring that such talks are held by MacArthur in his capacity as a top United States officer and "are purely routine matters of sole concern to this government."

New Tune Records Going On Sale Soon

Ruling Awaited To End Boss Petrillo's Ban

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Records of new tunes may be on sale soon.

An end of James C. Petrillo's ten months ban on new music recordings today hinged on an awaited ruling from the department of justice.

An agreement aimed at putting new phonograph disks on the shelves of the nation's music stores "as soon as possible" was announced jointly last night by Petrillo's AFL Federation of Musicians and Major Record Makers.

But they did not plan to sign the proposed new five-year contract until Washington had passed on its legality.

The main question involved is a plan for administering royalty payments on record sales.

This was the issue that resulted in the ban last Dec. 31 after the Taft-Hartley act outlawed contract provisions under which the record manufacturers paid royalties on record sales directly to the union.

The union used the money to hire unemployed musicians at free public concerts.

The new agreement, the announcement said, "provides in substance that the record companies will make payments into a public music fund to be administered by a trustee."

Chase Osborn Fights Off Heart Attack

Albany, Ga., Oct. 29 (AP)—Former governor Chase S. Osborn of Michigan suffered a heart attack last night but rallied and was reported improved today.

A hospital statement said the 88-year-old Osborn is "much better this morning."

He was brought to the hospital earlier this week from his home at "Possum Poke" in Poulan county, Ga., where he spends nine months of each year. His adopted daughter, Stellanova Osborn, is at his bedside.

Dewey To Support Higher Wages, Boost In Social Security

Democrats Admit House Control Lost

BY JACK BELL

Enroute with Dewey to New York City, Oct. 29 (AP)—Republicans contended today they not only will win the presidency in next Tuesday's voting but are certain to have a GOP controlled Congress.

And Gov. Thomas E. Dewey added the prediction that such a Congress would give "enthusiastic support" to expanding social security, raising the minimum wage level and protecting veterans' "rights and benefits."

The Republican presidential nominee displayed his confidence in the outcome of hotly-fought senate races in Boston last night. Sketching in a social welfare program, he declared:

"And all this I can tell you, will have the enthusiastic support of the next Republican congress."

Margin 51 to 45

Former Senator John Townsend of Delaware, who heads the Republican senatorial campaign committee, backed up the candidate's prediction.

Traveling with Dewey on a six stop tour of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, Townsend told a newsmen reports now indicate the Republicans will hold the 51 to 45 margin they have over the Democrats in the Senate.

Even the Democrats concede privately they have little chance to gain control of the House. But they have been driving hard to upset the GOP in the Senate.

Townsend, who earlier might have been willing to settle for a bare 49 to 47 Senate margin, said a swing is on "which may give us an additional seat or two over the 51 we now have."

In close contests, he said he counts as "safe" Republican Senators Ball of Minnesota, Cooper of Kentucky, Robertson of Wyoming and Revercomb of West Virginia.

Fate Of Manchuria Watched By Chinese

Capital Awaits Word Of Battle With Reds

Nanking, Oct. 29 (AP)—China's restless and apprehensive capital today awaited official word on the fate of government armies in Manchuria.

Communists said they have destroyed five armies in a two day battle.

Government sources were silent on the Red report but other sources indicated it was at least partly true.

Against this darkening background, angry legislators demanded relief from the worsening economic crisis. They threatened to dismiss Premier Wong Wen-Hao if he could not give them a workable plan in seven days.

Other legislators hinted a new government might be formed to replace that of President Chiang Kai-shek.

The Communists said disaster befell National troops around Tachuan, 65 miles below Mukden.

Such a victory would give the Communists vast stores of ammunition and other supplies for their march southward. It would endanger all of the government's thinly spread forces in North China.

Iron River Will Turn Clocks Back

Iron River—City commissioners have agreed Mayor Hagelin announced to revert to central standard time to 12:01 Sunday, Nov. 7, the date set by the village of Gastra to abandon daylight saving.

Hagelin said he would call a special meeting of the city commission this afternoon or tonight to get a resolution on record. He added that the peat bog fire, which creates a "smog" during the night and the early morning hours was the chief factor that prompted the city commissioners to agree to go back to central standard. An hour between 6 and 8 in the morning would give the smoke-fog time to lift.

The commission of the city of Stambaugh last week voted unanimously to return to central standard and sent letters asking all municipalities to do likewise. The village of Gastra also sent resolutions to all communities and the county board.

There are about 1,500 known species of mosquitoes.

DELTA WELFARE COST $60,547

September Report Shows Rising Relief Load

The total cost of the social welfare program for September in Delta county was $60,547.18, according to a report of welfare expenditures by A. M. Gilbert, director of the county welfare department. This compares with a total of $58,984.34 expended in September one year ago.

The number of direct relief cases in the county has increased from 349 to 396 during the past year, and the cost of direct relief from $10,145.23 to $12,624.35. Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and hospitalization declined from $2,448.32 in September a year ago to $1,500.57 last month. Administrative costs went up slightly—from $1,460.49 to $1,606.16.

Old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind all decreased in the number of cases since a year ago, although the cost is only slightly under last year because of the higher average cost per case. The number of old age assistance cases went from 869 down to 796, aid to dependent children from 192 to 169, and aid to the blind from 10 to 8 cases.

State and federal funds equally finance the three classifications listed above. The total expenditure last month was $44,816.10 compared with $44,930.30 in September last year.

FIRE HAZARDS CAN BE CURBED

Halloween Activities Offer Dangers

Halloween, with its fun-makers and pranksters, is a day of danger as well as of festivities. Fire is the greatest hazard, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns. It suggests steps to be taken to safeguard children against burns while celebrating the traditional day.

The long-used candle-light jack-o-lantern, whether made of a hollowed pumpkin or of paper material, is always a hazard. A flashlight with fresh batteries will illuminate the face equally as well, will last a longer evening, and is perfectly safe.

Halloween bonfires are particularly dangerous because dry leaves and grass are plentiful in late October days. Flammable decorations for parties, with or without lighted candles, should not be used, and children should not be dressed in flimsy, lacy cotton or rayon costumes because they take fire too easily.

Clothing can be made less dangerous by an easily applied home flameproofing treatment with a solution of borax and boric acid. Nine ounces of the first and four of the second in a gallon of warm water makes a cheap solution in which the fabric can be soaked a few minutes, then wrung out by hand and dried. The treatment is effective in stopping flamespread.

The widely practiced prank of marking windows and cars with soap, wax crayons or candles is a nuisance rather than a hazard. Markings made with soap may be easily removed by washing with hot water and a stiff fiber brush. Markings made with wax crayons

Schafer, officiating, and burial will be in New Garden cemetery.

60th Anniversary Banquet Is Held By Fair Store

Seventy-eight employees and guests attended the sixtieth anniversary banquet of the Fair Store at the House of Ludington last evening.

and candles generally require the use of an organic solvent such as gasoline, turpentine or mineral spirits. However, the use of these solvents is a hazard because many of them are flammable and toxic. Care must be taken to keep flames away from them, and their vapors should not be taken into the lungs.

Tax Diversion Involves Waste

IN ITS DEFENSE of the sales tax diversion amendment, the Michigan Education association seeks to convey the impression that the state government has not been and presumably will not be hard put financially by its loss of revenue to the schools and to local units of government.

Actually, the terrific impact of the diversion amendment upon the state's financial condition has been softened only by the rising tide of inflation. That may seem paradoxical in view of the fact that the cost of state government is necessarily affected by the rising cost of goods and services that the state must purchase. It is true, nonetheless, because higher prices mean higher sales taxes and since the distribution to the schools and the local governments is based upon last year's receipts, the amount of money left to the state from this year's taxes is greater than anticipated.

This is only a temporary condition, as anyone familiar with economics realizes. Eventually prices will become stabilized at current levels, if they do not actually recede. When that time comes, the state will find itself with reduced funds available. And if an outright recession develops and prices fall, the impact upon state finances will be terrific. The process will then be reversed and the state will be paying its tax diversion monies to the schools and local governments upon the basis of inflated receipts of the previous years, although current income will drop sharply.

That is only one of the disagreeable aspects of the tax diversion law, however, even though it is admittedly a major fault of the system.

An even more grievous aspect of the tax diversion law is the undisputed fact that it provides considerable funds to governmental units that do not need additional revenue. This condition encourages waste of tax funds at a time when governmental economy is extremely urgent.

The schools are all but unanimous in their clamor for retention of the tax diversion law, but it is also an undisputed fact that hundreds of school districts in Michigan, as well as hundreds of townships, do not levy any local taxes at all. The only possible interpretation of this condition is that such school districts and such townships are not hard pressed financially.

It should be obvious by now that the only reasonable and intelligent way to distribute tax receipts is upon a basis of need. Anything less than that invites and even encourages waste.

The Die Is Cast

THE presidential election campaign is all but ended. The words that will be said by opposing candidates and their cohorts in the remaining hours before the voting begins Tuesday will have no material bearing on the outcome. The die has already been cast. The rank and file of American voters have their minds made up regarding their choice of candidates.

Governor Dewey's election as the next president of the United States is as close to a certainty as it is possible to be in advance of the actual voting. Governor Dewey entered the campaign after the political conventions with a definite advantage in public favor over his Democratic opponent, President Truman.

As the campaign progressed, Dewey's advantage lengthened. His campaign was built around the theme of national unity. Mr. Truman, on the other hand, sought to array class against class, section against section. The president welcomed any kind of a political trick if he thought it might bring him a few votes. He made the very serious mistake of underestimating the intelligence of the American people.

Mr. Dewey, too, was given tremendous help in his campaign by the spirited efforts of his running mate, Governor Warren of California, a liberal administrator with a vigorous appeal to the voters. Mr. Truman's vice presidential running mate, Senator Barkley, on the other hand, makes virtually no impression on the voters in the North and West.

Football Finale

HIGH SCHOOL football will bow out for the 1948 season in this area tomorrow when the Escanaba Eskimos and Gladstone Braves play their traditional battle at the Marble Athletic field in Gladstone and the St. Joseph Trojans meet Stephenson at Memorial field in Escanaba.

Unlike so many of the games between teams of the two schools in recent years, this Escanaba - Gladstone game does not have quite the advance indications of complete uncertainty. The Eskimos are enjoying an extremely successful season, their record marred only by a one-point defeat at Menominee in a game which the Eskimos had the better of virtually everything but the final score. The Braves, on the other hand, have had reverse luck, winning only one game thus far this season.

A victory for Gladstone would, of course, make the season a complete success for the Braves and their rosters, in view of the long odds against them. Such a possibility cannot be ruled out, either, as the history of the series proves. Last year, for instance, the Eskimos came back in the second half to snatch victory after trailing by four touchdowns in the first half.

The main purpose of this discourse, however, is not so much to compare the strengths of the opposing teams as it is to grab the opportunity to commend the football fans of the two communities for a sensible attitude towards high school football.

Football is only a game and it should be recognized as such. Escanaba fans naturally are proud of the fine record of the Eskimos but we think that they are even more proud of the conduct of the Escanaba players on and off the field. Gladstone fans have had little to cheer about from the standpoint of victories but they have much to cheer about in the manner in which the Braves have taken their setbacks. For that, the Gladstone fans can really be proud.

St. Joseph fans, too, have shown an attitude of sensible understanding of the purpose of interscholastic football and they as well as the Trojan players deserve a congratulatory puff as the season draws to a close.

Proposal No. 6

MOST VOTERS are thoroughly familiar with the various proposals to be voted upon Nov. 2 in the so-called amendment ballot, with the exception of Proposal No. 6, which is a referendum on the state's Callahan law.

Unlike the first five proposals on this ballot, Proposal No. 6 is not a proposed amendment of the state constitution. It is simply a referendum to determine the public attitude toward the Callahan law, which is designed to regulate un-American organizations financed by foreign governments.

The measure was enacted by the legislature in 1947. Under its terms any group, club or society subsidized by a foreign government and found to be subversive by Congress, the attorney general of the United States or the attorney general of Michigan, if convicted of violating any provisions of the law, would be subject to a fine of $5,000 or a term of five years in prison, or both. Prior to making a determination, the Michigan attorney general is required to give the accused a hearing.

The agencies at which the act is aimed are required to register with the attorney general and furnish detailed information on forms prepared by him. Information as to membership status, activities, income and expenditures may be required by the attorney general.

Attorney General Black has refused to enforce the act and has refused even to prepare forms for the purpose of registration under the act. For all practical purposes, the law as it stands now is at least dormant, if not dead.

Aside from the fact that it places a burden of responsibility upon the attorney general for enforcement of the act, the only reasonable argument against the law is that it duplicates the efforts of the federal government in requiring the registration of subversive groups. The argument in favor of the law is that it provides one additional means of exposing un-American organizations.

RAMBLING AMONG WORDS

Readers have asked "Which language has the largest number of words?" On the basis of dictionary counts, the American language leads with about 600,000 words. British English has 415,000. Others follow in this order: German, 185,000; French, 93,000; Spanish, 71,000; Italian, 70,000; Latin, 52,000; ancient Greek, 97,000.

Of course, these figures include many words that are obsolete; and they do not include many words that are in the living languages, but not yet recorded by the dictionaries.

The longest government bureau abbreviation to come out of the was reported in 1943 by Editor and Publisher: It is EIDEBOEWABEW, Economic Intelligence Division of the Enemy Branch of the Office of Economic Warfare Analysis of the Board of Economic Warfare.

Headline in a Los Angeles newspaper: 3-year-old Film Man's Daughter Kidnapped. He'll probably be a grandfather at the ripe old age of ten.

H. L. Mencken, in Supplement Two of "The American Language," reports this verse as having appeared in the October, 1852, issue of Harper's Magazine:

"Write" we know is written right,
When we see it written "write";
But when we see it written "wright,"
We know 'tis not then written right;
For "write," to have it written right,
Must not be written "right" nor "wright."
Nor yet should it be written "rite,"
But "write"—for so 'tis written right.

English spelling is like that.

Atomic Science Is In Politics

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—One thing about this curious presidential campaign now drawing to a close is unique. The atom has for the first time in history got into politics.

Four years ago hardly anyone except a few scientists knew that the atom existed. This year both major party candidates devoted a major speech to the force that burst on the world with such terrifying suddenness at Hiroshima three years ago.

Because candidate Dewey made the first speech he must take the blame for bringing the atom into the campaign. Avoiding any direct criticism of the policy of the atomic energy commission, Dewey used the phrase "the dead hand of government" which was obviously intended to make political headlines.

Aside from this catch phrase, what Dewey said does not differ greatly from what Chairman David Lilienthal of the atomic energy commission has frequently said. That is that government cannot do the job alone. It must be a partnership between science, industry and government.

MUST BE MONOPOLY
In his speech candidate Truman said "that atomic energy should not be used to fatten the profits of big business." This ignores the fact that one of the AEC's problems has been to persuade business firms to take atomic development contracts. One of the biggest of big businesses said no, because of the fear of becoming involved in just the kind of political scrap that the Truman-Dewey speeches foreshadow.

Actually from the beginning, when atomic fission was nothing but a gleam in professor Einstein's eye, business has been in partnership with government. Dewey is right when he says that it could never have been done without the guiding direction of government under the spur of war.

The partnership is continuing. Industrial laboratories and universities have taken research contracts.

Anyone who looks at it without prejudice is bound to question whether atomic energy ever can be fitted into the competitive free enterprise system as we have known it in the past. It is hard to imagine competing atomic power plants. Like a city-wide electric power system, it must by its very nature be a monopoly. Furthermore, you begin with the fact that more than two billion of taxpayers' money already have gone into atomic development.

There would be few to advocate that this be turned over to the small number of private companies that could operate and develop it. Certainly for the foreseeable future, when atomic development is almost entirely concentrated on the military phase, the business-government partnership is the most that can be hoped for.

As though this aspect of the atom was not sufficiently overwhelming, dwarfing most ordinary considerations, the question of international control looms even larger. A change in the American policy on atomic energy and atomic weapon control can be expected from a Dewey administration.

BARUCH PLAN DEBATED

Among the Dewey advisers, who are so highly sensitive to public opinion and world reaction, the feeling is growing that the Baruch proposal for international control and policing of all atomic fission is now outdated. That is to say, they believe that neither Congress nor the public would be willing, after two years of Soviet resistance and denunciation, to yield so much authority over our own development to the United Nations.

Pressure has been put on Bernard M. Baruch, sponsor of the plan, to repudiate it publicly. Thus far he has refused, although it is believed that he shares the doubts over whether it would be accepted in the present heated climate of opinion.

Withdrawal of the Baruch proposal, so long and so persistently backed within the United Nations by all but Russia and the satellites would leave a perilous vacuum. The Baruch plan has stood like a great sign advertising America's willingness to sacrifice so much for security.

If it is to be withdrawn, then another plan must be framed to replace it. That kind of vacuum will be filled in one way or other. It cannot be ignored.

Atomic politics on the world level is even more frighteningly futile and stupid than on the national level. If the Russians had accepted the American plan two years ago, it would have means an enormous stride forward toward world order. A step backward will be an equally long stride in the direction of atomic destruction.

According to the Social Security Board, these surnames in the United States lead in this order:

Smith	Anderson
Johnson	Wilson
Brown	Taylor
Williams	Thomas
Jones	Moore
Miller	White
Davis	Martin

A reader asks: "Is there such a word as 'dumfuitinfractatum' and is it ever used?" It should not be written as one word. It is the Latin legal phrase dum fuit infra actum, meaning "while he was under age."

Wilfred Funk, in a recent Reader's Digest, slipped a cog when he accented the word minuscule on the first syllable. The correct pronunciation is: mi-NUSS-kyool.

Why is it incorrect to say "feel badly, look badly" etc.? These common mistakes are corrected in simple, nontechnical language in Mr. Colby's pamphlet, C-10. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Besides, I Can't Get Elected Without You

"OH, HOW I LOVE YOU, DEAR, OLD, PAL OF MINE—"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

HAS VALUE—Dr. Lewis Beeson of Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Society (a private organization), is also executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, a public organization. The work of the two, for all intents and purposes, is combined under his leadership but only the Historical Commission's activities are financed by legislative appropriations. In most states there is but a state historical society and public, as well as private funds go toward supporting its work. In Michigan an attorney general ruled, a number of years ago, that the legislature could only appropriate to the commission.

Today state officials and the legislature concede that Michigan is behind times in its program to collect and preserve historical material. This is an admission of the value of the commission's work, and a confession that an annual appropriation of a little more than $30,000 is not enough to carry on an adequate program.

COMPARISONS—Michigan is as rich in history as New England, California, Florida or any other section of the nation. French explorers were visiting Sault Ste. Marie nearly a score of years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth rock. Fourteen years after the landing of the Pilgrims, Joliet, a Frenchman, voyaged through the Great Lakes to Green Bay seeking a northwest passage to China.

The state of Florida has made St. Augustine's fort antionally known. In Michigan even our own residents are unaware that Fort Mackinac and Fort Wilkins are considered the finest examples of early fortifications to be found in the Middle West.

And in Michigan there are ancient copper mines worked by the Indians centuries before the arrival of the white man. They might rival in interest the cave dwellings of the southwest. Michigan has a rich heritage of history under three flags—French, British and American—yet to Michigan people and the visitors who come here it is largely unknown.

REGIONAL—The hope was voiced by Dr. Beeson that an Upper Peninsula Historical association might be formed after county historical societies are organized and become active in their own areas.

The regional approach to history is not unusual. There is an Upper Peninsula Development Bureau. New England states cooperate in a regional promotion plan, and states along the Gulf Coast join in a program of advertising. The background of history is evident in all of the advertising, incidentally, and only in Michigan is the historic relegated to a position of little or no importance.

MUCH TO OFFER—We have written of this before, but here it is again. The Upper Peninsula was settled by peoples from many lands, bringing something of cultural value with them from their homeland. In addition there is the background of the native Indian, whose primitive culture appeals to everyone who has had the opportunity to come into contact with the few remaining ex-

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Munising—Orie E. Brown was re-elected chairman of Alger County chapter of American Red Cross at a meeting held Monday. Escanaba—Dedication of the new log structure in Hulbert which will house the Missionary Baptist church of that community will be held Sunday, pastor Harry C. Craner has announced.

Manistiquette—Mrs. Arthur Burnett, of Greeley, Col., the former Henrietta Hoholik of this city, is visiting here with friends.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Two hundred and sixty four children, representing 60 per cent of the school enrollment, were given toxin-antitoxin injections for diphtheria prevention at the Franklin school yesterday.

Manistiquette—Mopping up the last of the flood of miscellaneous liquor ever seized in Manistiquette, Sheriff J. M. Hewitt and deputies visited three local homes last night. Two rooms of the jail are filled with beer, wine, liquor, stills and casks.

Gladstone—Joseph LaLiberty has left for a three-week visit with relatives in Montreal and Quebec, Can.

We must stamp out segregation and other forms of discrimination. We can remove the voting limitations imposed by the poll tax. We can give real meaning to the civil rights provisions written into our Constitution.—CIO President Philip Murray.

Speech that costs a man his job is not free. Investigations that cost a man his life are murder. The American people are never going to accept the stool pigeon as the hero of 1948, nor the heroine, either.—Henry A. Wallace.

amples in isolated Upper Peninsula communities.

Little has been done to portray this wealth of diverse cultural material to the visitor.

There is not one historical museum worth the name in the Upper Peninsula.

At Sault Ste. Marie the library contains many good things but the room is opened only to occasional visitors; the conservation department has started a museum at Fort Wilkins but its chief exhibits are of early mining days; at Fort Mackinac there is a museum containing a hodgepodge of articles poorly displayed.

Nowhere in the Upper Peninsula is there a museum that attempts to tell, clearly, simply and graphically the story of the Upper Peninsula.

SELECTION—Dr. Beeson asserted that 90 per cent of the material to be found in most historical museums should be in storage, with ten per cent on display. The articles displayed can be changed from time to time some coming out of storage, others going in.

He particularly praised the plan in which murals depict the broader phases of history of an area. Below the murals are brief messages telling the story; and displayed below these are a few significant articles actually used in that historical period.

Every county in the Upper Peninsula could have such a museum. It would not be costly either to establish or maintain. The story it would portray would be easy to understand and would appeal to visitors as well as to the residents of the community.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—Ho, ho, ho! Boo, hoo, hoo! Ha, ha, ha!

I know I'm mixed up, boys, but I don't know whether to laugh or cry.

I've just finished reading Homer Cory's "What Grandpa Laughed At." It's an excavation job by the author of "West Of The Water Tower" into the popular jokes that America chuckled at in the 25 years before the first World War.

Want to know what made the Gay Nineties so gay? Well, hold on to your sides, this one'll slay you:

"Why do married men live longer than single ones?" "They don't. It only seems longer."

That seem familiar? Well, it was printed back in 1891—and before that Walter Raleigh probably told it to Queen Elizabeth.

Let's skip to the merry year of 1893, when the nation whooped and hollered about the one concerning the deaf old lady who lived near the Brooklyn Navy yard.

Wit With Whiskers
It seems that on Washington's birthday they fired a 21-gun salute and the old lady said:

"Come in."

All right, let's go on to 1895. That's the year a country lady approached a hotel desk and said timidly:

"Can you give me a room and bath?"

"No, Ma'm," said the clerk. "I can give you a room, but you will have to take your own bath."

This joke may lack humor today. But I think it is historically interesting because it shows there was a time when a hotel clerk would give you anything.

Remember 1898? There was a small war that year. But that year somebody also defined a monologue as "a conversation between a husband and wife."

The Spanish-American War is pretty well forgotten; but that wise crack is still as near as your radio.

It was in 1902, when steak rose to 24 cents a pound, that the fellow went into a restaurant, ordered extract of beef and got—milk.

But it wasn't until 1905 that Father Kelly had lunch with Rabbi Levi and asked playfully:

"When are you going to have some ham?"

And the Rabbi answered: "At your wedding, Father."

That same year, 'twas, when a man, sneaking softly into his bedroom after a night out, heard his wife whisper:

"Is that you, Henry?" "It'd better be," said Henry. Poor Henry. He's been giving that reply for 43 years.

Of the six jokes listed by Cory as most enduringly popular the most familiar concerns the drunk who came to a tree encircled by iron bars. After teetering around the iron fence for hours, the drunk finally put his head through the bars and said plaintively:

"Won't somebody please help me? I'm trapped and can't get out."

Ha, ha, ha! Well, that reminds me of a good one myself. It seems a man met his friend and said, "who was that lady I seen you with last, Knight?" And Knight came back like a flash:

"You weren't the last one to see me."

I think that's the way the story goes. An Englishman told it to me. He said he didn't remember it very well.

But Grandpa—he does.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Los Angeles.—En route through the West all you have to do to get a picture of who's baking who in this campaign is to read the list of campaign contributors to the Republican and Democratic parties.

This is not quite as easy as it seems since you have to be careful to look up the contributors not only to the Republican national committee, but to the G. O. P. Senate and congressional committees and to a host of state G. O. F. committees. These were organized to diversify campaign contributions and get around the Hatch act.

On the Democratic side, the really big money is coming from labor. And it, in turn, to get around the Taft-Hartley act, is spending the money through its own separately organized committees.

Also significant is the fact that the biggest G. O. P. contributors—the Du Ponts of Delaware, the Pews of Pennsylvania, and the New York financial set are pouring their money not into Dewey's campaign, but into the senatorial races. They regard Dewey as good as elected.

SPLITTING CONTRIBUTIONS

Careful scrutiny of the big money gifts is illuminating. Take one family alone—the Du Ponts. The Republican senatorial campaign committee is headed by a Du Pont henchman, ex-Senator John Townsend of Delaware. His job is to win G. O. P. Senate elections in Tennessee, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Minnesota, Wyoming and Montana.

To help him, the Du Pont family poured in the following amounts of money during June, July and August: Lamont Du Pont, $2,000; Irene Du Pont Jr., $2,000; I. Sophie Du Pont May, $2,000; Octavia M. Du Pont Bredin, $1,000; Mariana M. Du Pont, $2,000; Lucile Du Pont Flint, $2,000; R. R. Carpenter (a Du Pont in-law), $2,000; Pierre S. Du Pont 3rd, $2,000.

Under the Hatch act no one man can contribute more than $5,000. However, by splitting contributions between members of a family or between different committees of the same political party, the Hatch act is held not to be violated.

For instance, a few days before Lamont Du Pont gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. senatorial committee on June 18 he gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. national committee. This was on June 9. Also, on June 11, he gave $1,000 to the Republican congressional committee.

Also, while Irene Du Pont Jr. and his father and I. Sophie Du Pont May were giving $2,000 each to the G. O. P. senatorial committee on July 30, they also gave $2,000 each to the Republican national committee on July 9. Again, on July 14, the same three Du Ponts gave $1,000 to the G. O. P. congressional committee.

And on July 30, Octavia Du Pont Bredin, Mariana Du Pont Silliman and Lucile Du Pont Flint each gave $1,000 to the G. O. P. congressional committee, while on Aug. 2, Pierre S. Du Pont 3rd gave $1,000 to the same committee. Again, on Aug. 18, Pierre 3rd gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. national committee.

It's these gifts to the "side" committees which really tell the story of where the campaign money comes from.

Note—Three significant contributions appearing on the G. O. P. national committee list are for $1,000 each from Albert B. Wells, George B. Wells and Mrs. George Wells of Southbridge, Mass. The Wells family own the American Optical company of Southbridge which was prosecuted under the anti-trust laws by the justice department under a Democratic administration. Under earlier Republican rule, the justice department didn't get too nasty with anti-trust suits.

PAT HURLEY CAMPAIGNS

When Pat Hurley, ex-ambassador to China, travels through New Mexico campaigning for the Senate, he really travels in style. The other day Pa Howell, owner of the Southern Pacific hotel in Carrizozo, New Mexico, was a little surprised to receive a wire from Hurley reserving ten rooms for a three-day stay.

The telegram stated that he and Mrs. Hurley would need four rooms; their secretaries, chauffeurs and campaign manager six more. The telegram asked for telegraphic confirmation.

Pa Howell does not run a big hotel and he wondered why Pat Hurley would want to bring such a big retinue to a town of only 500 people. But he arranged to oust a couple of traveling salesmen, even though they were regular guests, and wired Hurley that the ten rooms would be ready.

22 Escanaba Boys Will Attend Older Boys' Conference

The Upper Peninsula Older Boys' conference will convene this year on Nov. 5 and Nov. 6, at Iron Mountain-Kingsford, Mich.

It is for selected high school boys between the ages of 15 and 18 years. Boys are of proven ability and character. The theme of the conference is "Dynamic Leadership for an Atomic Age."

Guest speaker will be Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, Ohio. The great American song leader George W. Campbell of Cincinnati, Ohio is expected to be present too.

All schools in the Upper Peninsula are represented for the two day meeting. Current problems affecting youth of today are discussed in general sessions and in smaller discussion groups. Inspirational leadership is provided.

Of special significance at this conference is the part played by Escanaba's representation. Twenty-two boys will attend from this city. Charles Benzinger, senior at Escanaba senior high school is the president of the conference through popular election at last year's conference held in Marquette.

Attendance of the boys is made possible by the generous contributions received by the Orange and Black Society from the many civic minded organizations throughout the city.

Bradford Loveland of the faculty will accompany delegates.

Council Of Catholic Women Will Be Formed November 2

An organization meeting of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women in the Escanaba deanery, one of six meetings scheduled by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D. D., Bishop of Marquette, for the coming week will be held in Escanaba at William Bonifas auditorium Tuesday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock.

Bishop Noa will be present to assist in the organization meeting at which the Very Rev. Alphonse Coignard, of St. Joseph church, Perkins, dean of the Delta deanery, will preside. Also present will be Miss Mary Donohoe, affiliation secretary of the national office in Washington, D. C. The Bishop will be accompanied by the Escanaba by the Rev. Joseph J. Dunleavy, diocesan moderator of the Council.

All Catholic women of Delta and Schoolcraft counties are invited to attend the meeting. The Diocesan Council will be an affiliate of the National Council which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. It is intended to be a federation of all existing societies of Catholic women and its purpose is, in the words of Bishop Noa, "to unite the tremendous influence of women in organizations for the good of the parish, the diocese, the church and the country."

Similar meetings are scheduled for Sault Ste. Marie, November 1, and Menominee, November 3, and the following week organization meetings will be held in Houghton, Ironwood, Iron Mountain and Marquette. A general diocesan meeting will be held in Marquette late in November.

Former Escanaban Has Leading Role In Green Bay Play

Margaret Lindstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lindstrom of Green Bay, formerly of Escanaba, played a leading role in the Community Theatre's presentation of "John Loves Mary," the first part of the week in East high school auditorium.

Margaret is a 1944 graduate of Escanaba high school.

Reviewing the production, Ruth Eiler of the Green Bay Press-Gazette staff, said in part:

"It's been a time since a Green Bay auditorium has housed an audience that laughed as hard or as long as the near 1,000 person one did last night at East high school."

"Community Theatre did itself proud and at the same time provided a fast-moving, never dull, full-of-tune play in its presentation of John Loves Mary. A lot of new faces were seen in the group's first production of the season, and Norman Krasna's comedy in three acts contained an excellent plot, augmented by some extremely laudable acting on the part of the C. T. cast."

Convincing In Roles
"Margaret Lindstrom and John Rogers do a bang up job as John Lawrence and Mary McKinley. Their easy stage manners lend a more convincing aspect to their respective roles. A newcomer to the Community Theatre stage, Rogers, dark and good-looking, did justice to both the comedian and romantic moments in the play. Mugsy or Margaret Lindstrom was cute as ever, as the rather flighty Mary."

DAV Auxiliary Meets Thursday
Escanaba Chapter No. 24 Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary will hold a regular meeting Thursday, November 4, at 8 p. m. in Unity hall. Members are reminded that this a meeting for birthday party donations. Plans will be made for the Christmas party meeting and the U. P. association meeting held in Ishpeming will be discussed. Games will be played during the social hour and lunch will be served by Esther Johnson, chairman, and her assistant, Della Stowe. A large attendance is desired.

Social - Club

Silver Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Louis of 1206 North 18th street, were recent guests of honor at a belated party honoring their silver wedding anniversary which was Oct. 17. A reception and dance were held in Unity hall and the couple received many lovely gifts from the 150 persons attending.

Mrs. August Burn and Henry Ottensman of this city, who were bridesmaid and best man for the couple when they were married here 25 years ago, were present at the reception.

Features of the program were two numbers by the Barber Shop Chorus and accordion duets by Manley Anderson and Guy Fiske. The party was planned by Mrs. Ralph Ottensman, Mrs. Alfred Ottensman, Mrs. Bruce Thivierge and Mrs. H. C. Nicholson.

Donald Louis of Lansing, their son, flew home for the occasion, but their other son, Lt. (j. g.) Eugene Louis of Key West, Fla., was unable to attend.

Hurley-Ring

Laverne Rose Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurley, Old State Road, and Robert Charles Ring of Iron Mountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ring, spoke their marriage vows in a ceremony at St. Patrick's rectory October 23. The service was read by Rev. Fr. Howard V. Drolet.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Eileen LaPorte of Escanaba and the bridegroom's brother, Donald Ring.

The bride wore a dress of light blue wool crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. LaPorte was attired in grey silk crepe with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

The bride's mother wore wine chiffon velvet with matching accessories and a corsage of wine and white pompons. Mrs. Ring wore a navy blue ensemble and white and yellow pompons formed her corsage.

A wedding dinner was served at the Chicken Shack with covers for 30 guests, followed by a reception and buffet lunch for 150 at the bride's home. The three-tiered wedding cake with white tapers arranged with baby mums and carnations formed the centerpiece. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Joseph Bellin, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Reuben Carlson, a sister of the bride, and Miss Margie O'Donnell.

Guests At Wedding
The couple after a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination will live in Escanaba at 517 South 12th street. The bride, an Escanaba high school graduate, is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Ring, a graduate of Iron Mountain high school, served with the U. S. Marines in the Pacific area for three years, and now is employed as an electric installer by Western Electric Co.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Marian Paye of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.; Miss Mary Kovalechek, Romeo, Mich.; Gordon Hurley, Romeo; Wilson F. Oliveira, Providence, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gavell, Chicago; Edward Hurley and John Carey, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Manske, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. ## Dr. E.M. Carlson Noted Educator, Rally Speaker

Dr. Edgar M. Carlson, president of Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minn., will be the speaker at the reformation rally to be held at the Bethany Lutheran church Sunday afternoon at 4:00, E.S.T. A mass choir, made up of members of the Green Bay district will sing. Out-of-town choirs should make an effort to be present in Escanaba at 3:00 E. S. T.

Dr. Carlson is the president of the Augustana Synodical Luther League so this rally should have a special appeal to the young people. While in college Dr. Carlson was member of the debating team that won the Phi Kappa Delta championship of all colleges and universities in America.

The Sunday afternoon rally is the culminating service in the five year centennial program of the Augustana Synod. Each organization in the church of the district asked to make sure a good delegation is present. Following the rally a social hour will be held in the church parlors. Every member of the family will have a point of interest.

Special tables will be set for both the men and the women and the Luther Leaguers will have their lunch in the parsonage and use the time to plan for a good delegation at the national conference in Duluth next June.

The public is invited to attend.

ALAS! RUARK IS CAMERA FIEND

Fears Even His Friends Will Shun Him

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—I am about to become a camera-fiend, and oh, golly, how I dread the prospect. Its a virulent disease I have been fighting ever since I got my first hangnail off a Brownie No. 2. I can think of no surer route to bankruptcy than becoming a camera-bug; no straighter path to social halitosis. There are a million breeds of bore, but none more oppressive than the guy who rubs your nose in a sheaf of smudgy, doubly-exposed prints, and demands that you admire the fact that the latest chromo of Little Reggie was taken with an emulsified afterglow of the flashlight funderbutton.

I can just see my friends shunning me now as a hopeless nuisance. I know this is bound to happen, because in my time I have ducked a thousand exhibitors of candid photographs of dear little sister torturing the tomato or stuffing her greedy little tummy with mushy ice cream cones.

Just Like Alcoholism
The man I admired above all others was a lad named Bill Williams, an editor with a bitter distaste for commenting on the dubious beauties of cross-eyed kids and other folks wives whipped from the pocketbook and shoved under the nose. Bill kept two shots of horrible-looking laboratory freaks in his poke. When a snapshot waver opened with his family group, Bill would raise him with his freaks. He cured a lot of people of the photographing habit that way.

Now, I suppose, I won't speak to me any more. It is just like the old version of alcoholism. One glass of near-beer, and the first thing you know the children are starving, the wife has gone home to mother, the landlord's baying at the door and father is playing leapfrog with six-headed sea serpents.

My downfall started last year in Africa. Borrowed a battered Rolleiflex from a friend. Professional photographer named Al Aumiller showed me how to load it. One day a particularly colorful ay-rab crossed my bow, and I twiddled some dogiegers and took his picture. That was the first and fatal sip. I was hooked.

We took a flock of pictures; a lot of color stuff. Turned out great. Three albums full. Albums cost money, too. Everything costs money in the photography dodge. But it makes no difference. Once you get a taste for the stuff, self-control goes out the window.

We have worked, now, through the elemental cameras, and currently have our noses pressed against a jewel-cabinet containing something called a foton. A foton is an infernal machine put out by Bell and Howell, who know to a millimeter the hopeless weakness of the true addict. This particular camera costs as much as a Cadillac—well it costs about seven hundred bucks, anyhow—but Mr. Hector McNabb, the canny protagonist, figures to peddle at least 20,000 of these things every year. He, too, is a connoisseur of the round heels of picture snappers.

Ain't Happy Any More
I have seen Mr. McNabb, and he let me fondle his camera. It has a "coincidental dioic range-finder." All my life I have been happy without a coincidental dioic range-finder. I have also

Thomas O'Connell Dies In Boise

Rapid River, Mich. — Word was received by relatives of the death of Thomas O'Connell of Boise, Idaho Oct. 13. He was 70 years old.

The O'Connell family left here about 40 years ago moving to Manistique where they lived three years and then moved to Portland, Oregon. Mr. O'Connell being a mill man, they lived in several western towns finally locating at Boise.

He is survived by his widow, the former Martha Barbeau, two sons, Ambrose, an engineer, who lives in Boise, Kenneth, a dentist at Portland, Oregon and three grandchildren. Funeral services were held and burial made at Boise.

Surprised on Birthday
Saturday evening Oct. 23, a number of relatives surprised William Young at his home re-been happy without a frame-counter, a shutter-release lock, a double-frame negative. But I ain't happy any more. Gimme that automatic shutter-cock. Starve my dependents, but gimme that focal length which varies from T/35 to an 8-inch T/4.

Shoot the darkness to me, John, boy . . . We are going to have some economy around here, my good woman, such as cutting down on mink coats and pigeon-blood rubies. Last year's shoes are plenty good enough for baby, for the price of light-meters has riz . . .

When I think of all the other colorful vices I might have acquired, I could just cry. On the camera-wagon, boy and man, for over 30 years, and now I take the fall. Anybody ever think of setting up an amateur photographers, anonymous? I got a candidate for it. A fellow who knows he can't take his 35 millimeter or leave it alone.

U. P. Development Bureau To Plug For Industries

The Upper Michigan Development Bureau, which through the years has worked chiefly in broadening the Upper Peninsula's recreational opportunities and in bringing tourists from all parts of the country to this area, is entering upon a new phase of development work—that of seeking to make the most of Northern Michigan's industrial opportunities.

This effort was explained by George Bishop, secretary of the bureau at a meeting of members of the chamber of commerce, the city council and the county board at the conference room of the State Savings Bank Wednesday evening.

The general plan has to do with making contacts between the different cities, villages and communities in this area with industries seeking new locations.

The Bureau plans to create a special department, employing a man expert in this type of work, to keep in touch with the general field, watch for industrial opportunities and, make the desired connections between communities and the prospective industrialist.

This project, he said, is still in the making and its establishment will depend largely upon the support the communities give. Support asked will depend upon the size of the community and to a certain degree upon its opportunities.

The support asked from Manistique was $300. Twenty-four cities and villages, he said had already accepted the quota assigned them and fifteen more remain to be contacted. He had hopes, he said, to get this department functioning by the first of the year.

Present Survey Falls Short
Bishop called attention to a survey already made in which the industrial location advantages of 37 communities in Upper Michigan are set forth, but these advantages he said are treated in a general way. While helpful in acquainting industrialists in other parts of the country in a general way with the opportunities here, the survey is not specific enough. Personal contacts and personal correspondence along with a people wide awake to their opportunities is the only solution to the problem of industrial expansion, he stressed.

"Know what you have here and know what you have there—industry wants," he said. And in this connection, he added, that when a community's resources are to be taken into consideration, such factors as housing, transportation, available electric power, schools, churches, and living conditions in general are matters perhaps of equal importance.

He gave full credit to post war planning projects and industrial surveys made in the past few years, but added that they have not been of much effect because they have not been followed up. The new department in the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, he said, would carry on where these surveys left off.

Discuss Lure Book
Mr. Bishop also made the request that Schoolcraft county make arrangements for advertising space and reading matter. In next year's edition of the Lure Book, whether pictures of the Big Spring and other beauty spots in the county be shown in color, the same as last year, was a matter for local sponsorships to decide, he said. This was taken under advisement. Preparation of copy for the general writup of the county was arranged for. Matters involving an appropriation will be taken up later.

Questioned About Ferry
Bishop was questioned concerning the possibility of a ferry service between Northport and Manistique. To this he answered that the Bureau is interested in transportation problems and in the removal of traffic bottlenecks, but he suggested that at least this stage of the promotion, communities directly affected should take the initiative. He stated that Northport, Traverse City, Suttons Bay and other cities in their part of Lower Michigan, were giving the project strong support, and that people of Manistique would do well to follow their example. "If you don't go after it, you won't get it," was his parting admonition.

Briefly Told
VFW Auxiliary—There will be a regular meeting of V. F. W. Auxiliary to Post 4420, on Monday, November 1 in the VFW club rooms at 8 o'clock. Initiation will be held and all officers and members are requested to be present. Hostesses will be Francis Nelson, Florence Pawley, Thelma Hewitt, and Charlotte Pawley.

RESOLUTION
WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Escanaba desires to vacate and discontinue one block of North 10th Street lying between 9th Avenue North and 10th Avenue North, west of Block One (1) and east of Block Two (2) of Moore & Matthews 2nd Addition to the City of Escanaba, also the alley lying west of Block Two (2), Moore & Matthews 2nd Addition, south of 10th Avenue North and north of 9th Avenue North;

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held on the above mentioned vacation of land, in the city council chambers at the City Hall on Thursday, November 18, 1948 at 7:30 p. m., at which time all persons interested therein will be heard.

Adopted at a meeting of the City Council held October 21, 1948.

Dated October 27, 1948

GIVE TREATS ON SATURDAY

Schools To Have Parties On Friday

Halloween, that occasion for fun, frolic and, all too often pernicious mischief, comes on Sunday.

Because of this fact those who are concerned with keeping young folks with ideas, circumscribed and within due bounds, are a bit worried.

Chief of Police Roy Anderson, while not fearful that the session of mischief will get out of hand, states that he is taking no chances and late prowlers, when caught, will be up against the serious end of setting to right the mischief they have wrought.

Heretofore, when Halloween fell upon week day nights, Lincoln school used to stage its annual Halloween parade followed by a party at the school. Central and Lakeside schools also staged festivities that made poor sports of the kids who chose to act up. This year, however, such things are out.

Lincoln school is holding a Halloween party Friday afternoon and there will be a party staged by junior high school students in the evening.

It isn't known what night the youngsters will stage their "tricks or treats" pilgrimage, but it is certain that they are not going to pass up this well established custom. It has been suggested by a number of local women that the children select Saturday evening. Friday night would be poor because most people would not be prepared and Sunday night would be poor because the treats would be all gone.

Sooooon better make it Saturday night.

It will also be well for the folks who will surely be visited to have the treats on hand for Saturday evening.

Halloween Party Friday Evening
A Halloween party will be held at the Junior High school study hall next Friday evening. There will be games and dancing and refreshments will be served. Parents are cordially invited to attend.

The occasion, fully in keeping with Halloween will be held from seven to ten o'clock in the Junior High study hall.

The following students will be committee chairman: Elizabeth Nylander, music; Nick Babaladeli, games; Kenneth Magnuson, refreshments; Jack Cowman, cleanup.

WAR ON RATS
South Haven (AP)—The title "Pied Piper of 1948" will be bestowed upon the South Haven boy or girl taking most orders for rat bait in Van Buren's county's anti-rat campaign. The winner will lead a parade wearing a tasseled hat and carrying the traditional flute. Oct. 29 has been set as "anti-rat day."

Pair Jumps Trapping Season; It Costs $288

That violation of conservation laws is not exactly a paying proposition should be indelibly impressed on the minds of several Delta county residents.

Thursday Carl and Donald Helman of 119 Fourth avenue North, city, were arrested by Conservation Officer John Mahar, city, who found them in possession of 57 untagged No. 1 traps, 23 muskrats and one raccoon.

Arraigned before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson on a charge of jumping the season and having illegal traps in possession they were ordered to pay fines of $125.00 and costs of $19.00 each. They were given 90-day suspended jail sentences and placed on 6 months probation violation of probation will result in the jail terms becoming immediately effective.

The men were coming home from Stonington where they had been since Sunday.

Leroy Maki of Osier was arrested for headlighting and arraigned before Justice Estenson and was fined $50 and costs. He was caught after he had fired at a deer but missed it on the Rock-Osier road.

Clarence Cayer of Osier was brought to court for wilful trespass and admitted removal of some veneer logs from state owned property. He was ordered to make restitution in the amount of $45.00 and pay a $50 fine.

Conservation Officers Gilbert Larson, Allan Tweedy and John Mahar made the arrests.

Eskymos, Braves Play Grid Finale In Gladstone Tomorrow

Capacity Crowd Expected To See Renewal Of Series Begun In 1899

Six Gladstone Gridders End Prep Careers

Keil's Last Game, Too, As Football Coach

Gladstone, Oct. 29 — The big game of the season, the annual Escanaba-Gladstone high school football classic, will be held at Marble Athletic Field here Saturday afternoon. Referee Eddie Chamber's whistle for the opening kickoff will be heard at 2 o'clock. It will be the final game of the season for both elevens.

It also will be Coach Eldon "Cappy" Keil's swan song to high school football for he does not plan on coaching the sport next fall. He will, however, remain as a member of the high school faculty and undoubtedly will handle basketball and track.

Six of the Gladstone squad of 23 players are seniors and will be playing their last game as Braves. They are:

Dick Skoglund, captain and fullback.

Jerry Londo, end.

Ray Alworden, halfback.

Pete Peterson, center.

Lawrence Boden, guard.

Rex Stove, guard.

While Escanaba is an odd-on favorite to win handily, in this annual battle anything can happen and usually does. Although Gladstone has scored only three victories and attained two ties in the past 24 years games against the Eskymos there have been many thrilling battles even when the Braves were the underdogs.

Fullback Ralph McGeary is out for the remainder of the season with an ankle injury sustained in the Ishpeming game. All other members of the first string are in pretty fair shape.

Practice sessions during the week stressed defense for the Eskymos are strong in the air, through the middle and going wide. Although defense has been stressed, a few offensive tricks have also been polished for display Saturday.

Morale of the squad is excellent as the game approaches. The Braves realize they are going up against one of the Peninsula's top elevens, but they plan on giving them a real battle.

MSC Has Kicking Expert In Making

East Lansing, Oct. 29 (AP)—Some day football fans may be marvelling over the educated toe of (automatic) John Flaughner, the extra point kicking expert at Michigan State College.

Flaughner, a Spartan freshman from Royal Oak, is a study in single-mindedness in his efforts to make this dream come true. "I'm a kicker," he explained when he reported for the freshman team last spring.

"Okay," said the coaches, unimpressed. "What position do you play?"

"I don't want to play football," Flaughner told them. "I just want to kick."

The coaches gave him an extra football and a special shoe and forgot about him. For eight weeks during spring practice he showed up every afternoon. While the rest of the squad learned plays or scrimmaged Flaughner worked out in one corner of the field alone, kicking. He brought his own shoe and practiced several hours every afternoon during the summer. This fall he showed up again, still kicking, and by this time had become a fixture on the field.

Persistence paid off. The coaches began noticing that he was booting the ball between the goal posts with clock-like regularity. He has been getting some special instruction and is being groomed for the role he wants of a kicker, a specialist to be used only for the kickoff, the extra point try or a field goal.

Joe Louis to Box Detroit Exhibition

Detroit, Oct. 29 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will box six rounds with Vern Mitchell of Detroit here Nov. 13 during his November exhibition tour of the Midwest.

Matchmaker Nick Londe said today the Brown Bomber had signed for his first exhibition appearance in his home town since he knocked out Johnny Denson of Indianapolis in two rounds here in 1944.

Record Of Eskymo, Brave Grid Series

St. Joe To Honor Dads At Night Tilt At Memorial Field

Trojans Wind Up Season Tomorrow Night

Fathers of St. Joseph's parochial school football players will be honored at the Trojan-Stephenson football game at Memorial Field here tomorrow night—the second night football game ever to be played in Escanaba. The opening kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the night game still very much a novelty to Escanaba football fans.

During a ceremony between halves of the Trojan-Eagle melee, St. Joseph's schools colors will be presented to the following "dads": Earl Aiken, father of Joe Aiken; John Baker, father of John and Billy Baker; Henry Breaud, father of Gerald Breaud; Wesley Casey, Dick Casey; John Greis; Mike Greis; Norman Harris; George Harris; Bill Holmes; Gordon Hermes; Clarence R. Lahay, Dick Lahay, Leo Laviolette, Buddy Laviolette; Herbert Legault, Phil Legault; Lawrence List, Forrest List; Ed Mangerer, Wally Mangerer; Norbert Murphy, Norbert Murphy.

Lester Paulin, father of Don Paulin; Art Pepin, Robert Pepin; Clinton Priestler, Bill Priestler; Andrew Rappette, Dale Rappette; George Rappette, George Rappette; Frank Smokovich, Dick Smokovich and Robert Williams, father of Red Williams.

The following dads are unable to be present at the game but will be honored nevertheless: Gordon Gleich, Dick Gleich; John Kutches, Pete Kutches; Jerry Marsick, Jim Marsick; Theo Menard, Ray Menard; Paul Rademacher, father of John and David Rademacher, and Orville Tupper, father of Bob Tupper.

The game also is St. Joe's annual homecoming.

Boston Bruins Feast On Blackhawks, 5-1

(By The Associated Press)

The surprising Boston Bruins are proving no "morning glory" in the National Hockey league race—they absolutely refuse to fade.

The Boston pucksters won their fourth straight game in as many starts last night by trouncing the last-place Chicago Blackhawks, 5-1.

They thus maintained an unbeaten pace with the Detroit Red Wings, whom they now trail by a single point. Detroit has won four games and tied one.

The way Boston and Detroit are stepping, they may carry their unbeaten string right down to their meeting in Detroit Nov. 7.

The only league game last night drew 16,312 fans to Chicago's home opener.

But there was little to cheer after the Hawks went ahead briefly in the second period and saw the score tied shortly thereafter. The Bruins made a picnic of the third period, tallying four times.

The first period was scoreless. In the second period, with the Bruins' Pat Egan sitting out a penalty, the Hawks' Bud Bodnar hit for a goal at 13:18.

The Bruins tied it up at 15:36 when Johnny Peirson connected on a play in which Egan and Paul Ronty assisted.

17 Escanabans Will Play Last Game Saturday

Ruwitich Team Favored To Triumph

An Escanaba high school football juggernaut that ran roughshod over three highly respected foes—Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette—the last three Saturdays, in compiling a commendable total of 152 points against 47 for the opposition thus far, will make its final appearance against the Gladstone Braves on the latter's field tomorrow afternoon.

The opening kickoff is set for 2 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. Seventeen Eskymos, slated to be graduated next spring, will be playing their last game, and of that group, nine are regulars who have carried the brunt of the attack in a highly successful season. To date, the Eskymos have won handily over Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood, Norway, Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette—most of them by lopsided scores—and only in the Menominee game were they edged, 13-12, although they out-downed and out-gained the rival Maroons.

Favorites to defeat Gladstone last season, the Eskymos had to wage the fight of their lives the last half and score a touchdown in the last few seconds of play to nip the Braves, 26-25. It was a Frank Merriwell finish that did the trick—a game that will always be remembered as one of the most exciting and most thrilling battles ever waged between Gladstone and Escanaba.

It was a rousing game without a dull moment, a game that saw a Gladstone onslaught the first half and an Eskymo upsurge the last half that brought both elevens battling right down to the wire. So remarkable a finish did the Eskymos stage that players and spectators alike were stunned at the outcome—a classic example of a team snatching victory from defeat.

"You never know what to expect in this inter-city series," Coach George Ruwitich said this morning. "I know we're favored to win, but we have plenty of respect for the competition that Gladstone has always given us. It will be a tough battle. There is no room for overconfidence on the part of anyone."

The 17 Eskymo seniors who will see action for the last time are: Gary Abrahamson, end. Dick Barron, guard. John Beaumier, halfback. Don Carlson, triple-threat back. Bill Elliott, center. Jim Erickson, tackle. Warren Gustafson, tackle. Dave Johnson, guard and back. Dick Johnson, center. Gilbert Kangas, guard. Herb Nicholson, halfback. Howard Perron, fullback. Gilbert Prevost, halfback. Dick Pryal, quarterback. Jack Slapp, tackle. Matt Smith, guard.

Included in this group is Gerald Dufour, a regular until he was sidelined with an injury. He will not be suited up tomorrow.

First stringers above are Abrahamson, Barron, Carlson, Erickson, Gustafson, Dick Johnson, Nicholson, Perron and Pryal.

Coach Ruwitich plans to start the same lineup that has performed with great efficiency in recent games, namely Abrahamson, Erickson, Barron, Johnson, Jim Chapakis, Gustafson, Pat Farrell, Pryal, Nicholson, Carlson and Perron.

They may reign as favorites on the basis of their season's showing to date and Gladstone's comparative lack of success, but you couldn't tell it by watching the Eskymos practice this week. There is no sign of a letdown. They're out to win and wind up a big '48 season.

TITANS IN BAD MOOD

Detroit, Oct. 29 (AP)—The University of Detroit, still ranking from a narrow 14 to 12 defeat last season, is in a vengeful mood today for tonight's homecoming football clash with Villanova.

Without further comment, because records fairly well speak for themselves in all these games, we pick Escanaba over Gladstone, St. Joe over Stephenson, Munising over Newberry, Iron Mountain over Kingsford and Alpena over Soo.

Thinking about comparative scores against a mutual foe, Munising, you may ponder that St. Joe pick, but the situation was reversed against another mutual foe, Marinette Lourdes, and we think the Trojans can stop the Eagles.

In addition to the crystal ball, we quizzed Father Stephens, St. Joe athletic director, who said without qualification: "St. Joe will win."

Of course, he could be prejudiced.

CITATION ALL ALONE

Baltimore, Oct. 29 (AP)—They're going to crown Citation the horse racing king today at Pimlico and it will be one of the few occasions when there aren't any pretenders to the throne hanging around.

The figurative crowning will take place after the chestnut colt makes his lordly way around a mile and three-sixteenths of the track in the Pimlico special.

ESCANABA ESKYMOS OF 1948 — Pictured above are the powerful Escanaba Eskymos, one of the top ranking elevens in Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin and at least during the last half of the season the outstanding team of the area. Escanaba's play in the last four games has been particularly effective. In winning six and losing one to tie the all-game record of the U. P. champion Menominee squad, the Eskymos have compiled 152 points against 47 for the opposition. In the last three games, Escanaba has piled up 84 points to 14 for its opponents. Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette have felt the sting of the Escanaba attack to the tune of 24-0, 33-0 and 27-14, respectively, and only Gladstone remains before the Eskymos ring the curtain down on a highly successful season. Escanaba will battle Gladstone on the latter's field tomorrow afternoon. The 33-man varsity squad coached by George Ruwitich and Dick Schram is as follows: Front row, left to right—Matt Smith, Howie Perron, Dick Pryal, Gary Abrahamson, Herb Nicholson, Jim Erickson, Warren Gustafson, Dick Johnson, Don Carlson, Dick Barron, Gilbert Kangas, Jack Slapp and John Beaumier; center row, left to right—Coach Dick Schram, Bob Rodgers, Dave Johnson, Bill Elliott, Jim Prokos, Tom Nault, Alf Nelson, Jack Cloutier, Bob Frazer, Bob Richards, Gilbert Prevost, Jim Chapakis, Pat Farrell and Coach George Ruwitich; back row, left to right—Bill Miller, Gerald Dufour, Dick Danielson, Student Manager Bruce Packard, Axel Anderson, Jerry Bink, Don Kvam and Lloyd Olson. ### ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

The Sheboygan Redskins put on a bangup show of professional basketball wizardry at the Escanaba junior high school gym last night, but there was only 300 fans on hand to see it. They were very appreciative, however, of the fast exhibition brought here by the city recreation department.

The consensus was that if Coach Ken Suesens can mold his collection of truly formidable individual talent into a smooth working team, the Redskins will go far in their determined bid for the National Basketball league champions. And now that Escanabans—a few, at least—have seen them work, they'll be following their bid for the title. Sheboygan opens against Denver Nuggets in Sheboygan next Thursday night.

"This is the first full game we've played this season," Coach Suesens said afterwards, "and it did us a lot of good. The fellows are beginning to work together much better, but I haven't picked a starting five. I don't believe in starting fives, as such. The guys get the idea they've got a job. I'd rather work them all—substitute freely—and keep them all hustling. Much better that way."

Just to give you some idea of what extent Suesens plans to keep his men hustling, he has three giants battling for Eddie Dandekers' vacated center slot, six-foot nine-inch Nobel Jorgenson, six-foot seven-inch Milton Schoon who has a cold and didn't make the jaunt last night and six-foot six-inch Bob Brannum of Michigan State fame.

"Schoon will give both Jorgenson and Brannum a fight for the pivot slot, Suesens said. The Redskins play 64 league games and occasionally do a series of one-night stands that call for 500 to 600-mile road trips in between games on successive nights.

As the fellow said when he felt his lengthening five o'clock shadow: "Brother, that rough!"

Lack of space prohibits us from doing justice to the Redskins in today's column. We had a nice chat with Brannum about Bob Rannquette, Escanaba basketball star at Michigan State, and with Suesens about his Redskins and basketball in general and will tell you more about that later.

Only five Upper Peninsula high school football games for your prognosticator to worry about today, and frankly we consider them a breeze. If we don't hit 100 per cent this week, we'll eat crow instead of turkey for Thanksgiving. We picked seven right, had two ties and missed only one last week.

Without further comment, because records fairly well speak for themselves in all these games, we pick Escanaba over Gladstone, St. Joe over Stephenson, Munising over Newberry, Iron Mountain over Kingsford and Alpena over Soo.

Thinking about comparative scores against a mutual foe, Munising, you may ponder that St. Joe pick, but the situation was reversed against another mutual foe, Marinette Lourdes, and we think the Trojans can stop the Eagles.

In addition to the crystal ball, we quizzed Father Stephens, St. Joe athletic director, who said without qualification: "St. Joe will win."

Of course, he could be prejudiced.

CITATION ALL ALONE

Baltimore, Oct. 29 (AP)—They're going to crown Citation the horse racing king today at Pimlico and it will be one of the few occasions when there aren't any pretenders to the throne hanging around.

The figurative crowning will take place after the chestnut colt makes his lordly way around a mile and three-sixteenths of the track in the Pimlico special.

Tarheels At Tennessee, Georgia Tech At Duke Are Weekend Standouts

By Harold Claassen

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—The surest things in life supposedly are death and taxes. To that two-some can be added a third item—that there will be at least a dozen football upsets each weekend. The spotlight is on the South.

With that in mind, here are this week's selections:

North Carolina at Tennessee: Charlie Justice, Tar Heel back, has propelled a football 2,445 yards in five games by running, passing and kicking. Tennessee's team work doesn't appear strong enough to derail him although it may slow him down. North Carolina.

Illinois at Michigan: The Illini turned in a surprise victory last week over Purdue. But an upset of Michigan, the nation's top team in the weekly AP poll, isn't in the cards. Michigan.

Navy vs. Notre Dame at Baltimore: This has become "The" game on the schedule for the Irish. It also will become the 24th game without a setback on the Notre Dame record. Notre Dame.

Southern Methodist at Texas: A year ago Doak Walker began his climb to all-America fame in this game. He will have a happy anniversary with Kyle Rote and Gil Johnson to help him celebrate. SMU.

Georgia Tech at Duke: Another Dixie dandy. It is the day's only game involving two unbeaten clubs. Duke's record will be tarnished by nightfall. Georgia Tech.

Virginia Tech at Army: The Southerners haven't scored in five previous games this season. What makes them think they can tally at Army's expense. Army.

California at Southern California: Jackie Jensen will shred the Trojan line. California.

Cornell at Columbia: With Hillary Chollet on the sidelines the Big Red has little offense. Columbia, beaten on successive Saturdays in the final seconds, will build up an early margin. Columbia.

Dartmouth at Yale: The tradition in this rivalry is that the unexpected always happens. Maybe Yale's seven dwarves will become men again for the day. But it isn't in the cards. Dartmouth.

Ohio State at Northwestern: Every time Joe Whisler hits that Northwestern line he will think he collided with a concrete wall. Northwestern.

Washington & Lee at Pennsylv-

Sheboygan Redskins Please Small But Appreciative Crowd

The Escanaba all-stars gave a good account of themselves in holding the Sheboygan Redskins professional eagles to a 48-33 count in the first half of a first-rate basketball exhibition at the Escanaba junior high gym last night.

Dick Schram, who called the game with Steve Baltic, summed up the opinion of all those who saw it when he said: "It's the best outside team we've ever had in Escanaba!"

Dyed-in-wool Escanaba fans—you had to be dyed in wool to go to a basketball game on Oct. 28—nodded approvingly at Mike Todorovich's all-around effectiveness, Nobel Jorgenson's height, ball handling skill and shooting accuracy, Bobby Cook's speed, dexterity and eagle eye (the little guy's got a sixth basketball sense) and Bob Brannum's work-horse chore under both baskets.

They Looked Sharp
And that's not mentioning such capable performers as Bob Bolyard, Boody Gilbertson, Ted Cook, Les Deaton, Dan Wagner and Paul Cloyd (both of whom were set shot artists) and Coach Suesens, himself, who gave some evidence of his reputation as the league's outstanding exponent of team play. He's a bug on it.

Of all the Redskins, only Jack Watkins, slim Oklahoma star, seemed a bit below professional par. But as Coach Suesens said in explaining why he doesn't go for a starting five:

"You have to watch these guys like a hawk. One might be off because a slight cold or upset stomach. That's why I figure it's best to shift them around—work them all."

Against the Escanabans, Todorovich and Brannum made six field goals, respectively. Jim Kessler and Tom St. Germain led the locals. Kessler threw three field goals and Tom connected on seven straight free throws. Roy Johnson, Ed Hendrickson, Bob Anderson and Don Lewis each hit two buckets and Bob and Yutch Anderson and Tom Dufour each got one each.

Best Combination
In the intra-squad game, Bob Cook made eight buckets and Jorgenson made nine for the Reds and Wagner, Gilbertson and Brannum set the pace for the Whites with five, five and four, respectively.

The Redskins' offensive best combination? On the basis of last night's exhibition, Todorovich, Bob Cook and Jorgenson, with Todorovich in a feeding role.

But as Coach Suesens pointed out, Todorovich can work with anyone. He and Brannum looked like worldbeaters that first half.

The loyal 300 fans present agreed it was a first-rate basketball show.

DIZZY IN IDAHO

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 29 (AP)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit Tiger right-handed pitcher, waited here today for three other big leaguers to join him for a hunting trip in the Idaho wilds. Trout said three members of the world champion Cleveland Indians—Joe Gordon, Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden—would accompany him on the trip.

The United States Hockey league is playing its fourth season this campaign.
